Stewards Serve Others

We like to celebrate the fact that we are free to "live the good life." But Jesus calls us to Stewardship. St. Paul reminds us that Jesus sets us free so that we can serve one another, share our gifts and promote God's work here on earth to glorify His name and not honor ourselves.

Baptized June 19, 2016

We joyfully welcome into God's family, our newly baptized...

May God bless you in your new life together!

We welcome new parishioners...

The Farling family

We are so happy to have you with us!

"No one who sets a hand to the plow and looks to what was left behind is fit for the kingdom of God." What have we left behind? What have we traded in to become faithful followers of Christ? The answer is different for all of us. Some of us can tell the tale of a dramatic conversion story, leaving behind a life of blatantly selfish indulgence or obviously sinful behavior in order to embrace the call of Jesus. Others of us have been Christians since the day of our baptism as infants and have always walked the path of belief, but perhaps can trace certain moments when we embraced a deeper commitment and resolved to abandon particular behaviors, relationships, or worldly priorities that were in conflict with our faith. Whatever the case, Jesus instructs us today not to look to "what was left behind." Instead, we are called to keep our focus on what lies ahead, namely, life in Christ and the ultimate hope of union with him in heaven.

Keeping this focus can be quite a challenge. So often, it's tempting to think that the grass is greener somewhere else. As Christians, we can fall into the trap of imagining that it might feel better to be ... something else. Perhaps, seeing others around us whose lives are not shaped by their faith, we might think they have it easier than we do. Or perhaps we get lost in reminiscence about the way things were in the good old days, and thus get distracted from the mission that stands in front of us today. But thoughts like these are not fit for our new life as disciples of Christ. As St. Paul says in today's epistle, "For freedom Christ set us free." May we embrace the gift of this true freedom and follow Christ without looking back.

Celebrating the Jubilee Year of Mercy

December 8, 2015 to November 20, 2016

Summer of Mercy—Letting God love you!

by the Dynamic Catholic Team at DynamicCatholic.com

Every once in awhile it becomes important to check your own engine light to see if the tank is empty. After all, you can't give what you don't have, so it might be time to refuel.

A few years ago, I was in a session with my spiritual director. I was in the midst of a thirty-minute tirade about the depth of my failure to change the lives of others when the priest stopped me. He inched his chair closer to me and put his hand on my shoulder. He looked me in the eyes and said, "Son, you need to stop trying to save the world on your own. You need to let God love you."

He went on to explain to me that nearly all of the issues plaguing my life could be boiled down to the reality that I simply refused to let people love me—most especially God.

So I ask you, how well do you let God love you?

There is no one better at letting God love them than Mary. Our Blessed Mother is the epitome of someone who knows how to let God's love transform her from the inside out.

She was able to give so much because she had allowed God to fill her with so much. Just look at Mary's immediate reaction to finding out she was the Mother of God. Without hesitation she left her home to serve Elizabeth in her time of need. Think about that for a minute. She found out she was going to give birth to the Savior of the World and she went to go help her cousin! Incredible.

When you receive the love of God in abundance I think you will find that you are consumed by an incredible peace. It is from that place of simple peace and joy that you will be able to clearly see those around you through the eyes of the Blessed Mother and love them in precisely the manner that the Holy Spirit beckons you too.

Live the Liturgy Inspiration for the Week

Very often, we get very distracted by looking back on our past: what we have done, what we didn't do, mistakes we have made, and opportunities that were missed. Dwelling on the past takes us away from the possibilities before us today and ones available tomorrow! What Christ is calling us to do today and going forward from today are what is important. Constantly looking back limits our ability to say yes to his call.

-Taken from LPI, Inc.

Blessed be the God
and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ, the Father of mercies and God of all comfort, who comforts
us in all our affliction, so that we may be able to comfort those who are in any affliction.
