Dispensation from Bishop Sullivan

Catholics who are within the territory of the Diocese of Camden on St. Patrick's Day, Friday, March 17th are dispensed from the Lenten obligation to abstain from eating meat. Bishop asks us to instead make another appropriate sacrifice on the day itself or to abstain from meat on another weekday during the Second Week of Lent.

Please remember in your prayers
our beloved deceased
Eileen Daly
and her family and friends.

We, the Catholic community of St. Mary, are empowered through Baptism, guided by the Gospel and nourished by the Eucharist. WANT REAL CHANGE IN YOUR LIFE THIS LENT?

*At a loss on how to examine your life in light of God's mercy?
In a rut, using just the Ten Commandments?
Take a fresh approach!*

The following guide will help us deepen our understanding of sin in our lives and be more open to the transforming love of God in the Sacrament of Reconciliation.

Perhaps, sin isn't always in what we've done, but what we may have failed to do....

(Remember, a priest is available every Thursday evening in Lent, and on Saturday mornings too)

Guide to Confession and Examination of Conscience Based on The Beatitudes

Blessed are the poor in spirit, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.

- Do I fear being poor, in spirit or otherwise, and prefer to be rich in money, brains or influence?
- Is my desire for poverty of spirit congruent with my lifestyle?
- Do I use the word of God to rationalize my lifestyle, or am I willing to have God's word criticize it?
- Do I cling to my own ideas, opinions and judgments, sometimes to the point of idolatry?
- Do I contribute my time, talent and money to the poor of the world?
- Do I make it my business to examine the causes of poverty in our world and work to eradicate unjust systems?

Blessed are those who mourn, for they shall be comforted.

- Do I grieve over loneliness, despair, guilt and rejection in the lives of others?
- Am I willing to admit my own despondencies and need for comfort?
- Do I minister consolation and healing, or do I blandly encourage people to have courage, thereby avoiding the opportunity to mourn with another?
- Am I doing anything to dry the tears of those who mourn over war, poverty, hunger or injustice?

Blessed are the meek, for they shall inherit the earth.

- Do I see any value in meekness or nonviolence?
- Do I cringe at the thought of being called meek?
- Do I understand nonviolence as a way to fight evil with good, and do I choose to live that way?
- How much are intimidation and force part of my lifestyle?
- Do I work for nonviolent social change?
- Do I foster a cooperative spirit in my children?

Blessed are those who hunger and thirst for righteousness, for they shall be satisfied.

- Have I kept myself ignorant of important current events that are manifestations of injustice?
- Are my energies and passions focused on Christ or are they scattered, disordered or divided?
- Am I honestly trying to improve the quality of life around me?
- Am I trying to improve the environment, racial relations, care for the unborn, sexual equality and the lives of the poor and destitute?
- Have I decided that I will not be satisfied until justice is fulfilled in my own life, within my family, my church, my community or my world?
- Have I let fear keep me silent when I should have spoken out against prejudice, injustice and violence?

Blessed are the merciful, for they shall obtain mercy.

- Do I operate on a double standard of expecting mercy but not wanting to grant it?
- Do I prefer the strict law and order approach, or that of mercy, tenderness and compassion?
- Are there places in my life where people are suffering because of me and my unforgiving attitude?
- Am I devoid of a merciful spirit toward those I call an enemy?
- What is my attitude toward capital punishment and ex-convicts?

Blessed are the pure in heart, for they shall see God.

- Am I trusting and trustful?
- Do I value living without pretense or am I usually fearful that someone will take advantage of me?
- Am I open and honest about who I am and what I do?
- Do I deflect the attention and honor due to God and claim these things for myself?
- Have I been untrue to myself even a little, for advancement, money or the good opinion of others?
- Have I failed to take time for prayer, solitude and reflection?

Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called children of God.

- Am I eager for reconciliation or do I antagonize and yearn for revenge?
- Do I think apologizing is a sign of weakness?
- Am I willing to be a bridge in family and community arguments?
- Do I support violence in films, television and sports?
- Have I studied peace and taken initiatives to stop violence and war?
- Have I read and do I support, the many official church statements against nuclear weapons & war?
- Do I see the Christian vocation as one of peacemaker?
- Is my presence a source of peace to those around me?

Blessed are those who are persecuted for righteousness' sake, for theirs is the kingdom of heaven.
Blessed are you when people revile you and persecute you and utter all kinds of evil against you falsely because of me.

- Do I criticize or ridicule those who suffer for their beliefs?
- Am I embarrassed to step out of the mainstream to stand up for a principle?
- Who are my heroes? Are there any among them who gave their lives without vengeance for what is true? Would I do the same?
- Do I worship security and fear costly discipleship?
- Have I called myself Christian without making my life a witness to the teachings of Jesus?
- Have I openly supported those who defend justice and give their lives for peace?

Rejoice and be glad, for your reward is great in heaven.

- Do I live confident of the promises of Jesus?
- Do I surrender to pessimism and anxiety?
- Do I perceive that there is a paradoxical victory in the cross of Jesus that breaks through power structures and conquers in peace and love?
- Have I become cynical rather than hopeful?
